

Cushing/Whitney Medical Library

Yale University

We welcome all types of exhibits for display in the library.

Our primary goal is to provide an area to view and study the connection between the arts and medicine and the importance of humanities in medicine in medical education and practice.

The Medical Library exhibits in the rotunda, the hallway and the foyer display cases to showcase selections from our collections.

We also accept the work of artists in the Yale-New Haven Medical Center and the New Haven community. Exhibits are welcome from faculty, staff and students in the Medical Center as well as local artists.

Each exhibit request is reviewed by a Library exhibit review committee. The committee will consider date availability, the type of exhibit and display needs. We request that you complete and submit an Exhibit Proposal form below for consideration. We review the proposals monthly.

Thank you for your interest in exhibiting in the Cushing/Whitney Medical Library, Yale University. We look forward to working with you.
